(from the November 22, 1969 Catskill Daily Mail) There are some men whose lives are constricted by narrow boundaries. They go from job to their home, and back again, with little deviation, until retirement, when home is all there is left.

And there are others, whose interests reach out, who cannot be plugged into neat categories. Such a man is the Rev. Laurence Starr of Durham, whose interests are all embracing, so much so that they seem almost to conflict, for the distance from the noisy marketplace of the country auction to the serenity of the pulpit seems far indeed, and add to this the hurly-burly of politics, the screaming crowds at a horse race, to find a truly unusual human being.

Rev. Starr is equally at home in the election office in Catskill, chomping on the soggy remains of a fat cigar, and in his pulpit, from which he has married - and buried - thousands of people.

Rev. Starr was born just outside Ravena to Mr. and Mrs. Olan Starr. His father was a poultry farmer. He graduated from high school and began working at the general store in Ravena. In 1937, he entered Hartwick College in Oneonta and began preparations for the ministry. He was first ordained in the Methodist Church and later the Congregational Christian, now the United Church. He left college in 1941 after graduation and began preaching in Earleton. Before graduation, he had preached for the Callahan Community Church in South Bethlehem.

While in Earleton he married Martha Teator of that community; the couple has two daughters, Roberta and Beverly. After serving in Earleton for two years, Rev. Starr moved to the Pine Hill - Shandaken - Oliverea - Big Indian Charge and also taught physical education and health at the Fleischmanns High School for two years.

The family then moved to Oak Hill where he served the Methodist Churches of Preston Hollow and Livingstonville. After two years he entered the Congregational Christian Church of Medusa where he remained for five years, then seven years at the Presbyterian Church of Durham. For the past 23 years he has served the Potter Hollow Union Church, Bates and Broome Center United Churches of Christ.

He estimated that he has married and buried 'thousands;' many people having no church of their own have become acquainted with Rev. Starr through the auction business and in time of bereavement or thoughts of marriage have turned to him as the only cleric they know. And those who have heard him preside at the auction barn have been amazed to hear him preach, for he is a fine preacher, whose words bring comfort.

About 20 years ago, Rev. Starr purchased interest in a race horse, a trotter called "Uncle Jimmy Worthy" which raced at county fairs and "did very well." He also owned a pacer, "Abby Dillon Abby," who did not so well and after a while his interest in the horses palled and he sold them.

Rev. Starr got into the auction business quite by accident. One day he went to an auction sale in Oak Hill and the auctioneer's voice gave out. He appealed to those in the crowd for a substitute but no takers. Spotting Rev. Starr in the gathering, the auctioneer said, "How about you, Dominie?" and a career was born.

He took over that day and began helping out periodically. At first he was employed by another man and some 22 years ago purchased his own barn, which was located in the back of the church in Durham. Six years ago he built the huge new barn on Route 145. Rev. Starr never attended an auctioneer's school in his life, but he manages to project quite well and could literally sell anything. He cajoles, yells, hollers and points out the values of the huge variety of miscellany which is offered and, somehow, there is a buyer for all of it. Now, he says, antiques are very big sellers. "Good class and old furniture are in greatest demand - the hot items are primitive and colonial." He has three auctioneers working for him.

Rev. Starr has been a Republican committeeman in Durham for about 20 years. He was asked to be one so he was. He has never run for political office. For several years he was night jailer at Greene County Jail, serving two years under Sheriff Milton Bailey and another two under the late Sheriff Fred Knight. For eight years he has served as Republican county election commissioner. "Things get hectic around election," he points out. "There is the pressure of a lot of excited people." Rev. Starr is a member of the Oak Hill - Durham Fire Department and of the Cascade Lodge F&AM of Durham where he is past master and has "gone through the chairs".

¹The 1850 US, Town of Broome census shows head of household John Teeter (age 34), Lydia (age 23), Alexander (age 2), Angeline (age 9/12), and Joseph Richmond (age 18). Joseph is probably Lydia's younger brother.

The 1855 NYS, town of Middleburgh census shows head of household John Teter (laborer, age 38), Lydia (age 28), Alexander (age 7), Angeline (age 5), and David (age 2). The census shows the parents are born in Albany county, while the children are born in Schoharie County. The family members have been residents of the town of Middleburgh for one year.

The 1860 US, town of Rensselaerville census shows head of household John Teter (age 43), Lydia (33), Alexander (13), Angeline (10), David (10?) Rachel (5) and Elnor (1).

The 1865 NYS, Town of Broome census shows head of household John Teeter (age 49, owner of 125 acres), Lidda (38, mother of 8 children), Elexander (18), Engeline (16) David W. (13), Rachel (13), Elnory (6), and Orlando 2 10/12). John, Lidda, and Elnory are born in Albany County, while the others are born in Schoharie County, according to the cnesus record.

The 1870 US, town of Broome (pg. 35) census shows head of household Lydia Teter, 43, in the house of Melinda Brooks, value of house - $0, of personal - $100; Alexander, 22, farm laborer; Angeline, 20, domestic servant; Rachel, 14, domestic servant; David, 17; Elnora, 11; and Orlando, 7.

According to family tradition, John served in the militia from 1835-1850. His sword is in the possession of Norman Teator, having been passed down from Stephen Cantine from John.

When David is christened, the church record shows parents to be: David Teiter & Caty Hess.

²After John's death in 1866, Lydia married Orlando S. Mace of Livingstonville, possibly in 1877. Orlando Mace died 28 Feb 1887, age 66 years, 11 months, and three days, and is buried in Stone Store Cemetery, Livingstonville, next to his first wife, Hannah Hagadorn, who died 11 Apr 1876, age 55 years, 9 months, and 13 days. Information on Lydia's ancestry is detailed in the Richmond Family, published by Higginson Publishers of Boston.

³The 1880 US, Town of Broome census shows head of household Alexander (32), Marilla (31) and Orlando (18). Orlando is probably Alexander's younger brother.

The NYS 1925 census, Durham, shows Alexander Teator - 77, Elsie - 49, Nora - 14, Norman - 15, Orlando - 17, and Willis - 12.
